

EMPLOYMENT AND INVENTION ASSIGNMENT AGREEMENT

Employee agrees that all inventions, work product, source code, designs, improvements, and derivative works conceived during employment or using Company resources shall be the sole property of Company. Employee assigns all rights, title, and interest to Company.

Employee shall not engage in outside business activity, consulting, moonlighting, or employment without Company prior written consent. For twelve months after termination, Employee shall not work for any competing business in any territory where Company operates.

Company may terminate this Agreement or suspend Employee access at any time in its sole discretion. Employee obligations regarding confidentiality, non-solicitation, assignment, and dispute resolution survive termination.

Any dispute shall be resolved by binding arbitration in Company chosen venue. Employee waives any right to participate in a class action or jury trial.

Employee shall indemnify and hold Company harmless from any claims, damages, losses, liabilities, costs, and attorneys fees arising out of Employee breach or alleged breach.

Company may collect, process, retain, and share personal data with third-party service providers from time to time for business purposes.